

Indigenous Ministry — Australia

Cliff & Carolyn Letcher

Cliff & Carolyn Letcher serve with APWM and Australian Indigenous Ministries (AIM). They provide pastoral support & encouragement to AIM Workers and Aboriginal leaders in the Northern Territory. This involves them in spending a considerable amount of time in the Northern Territory.

Bob & Lucy Quinn

Bob & Lucy Quinn serve with APWM and Australian Indigenous Ministries (AIM). They seek to train Aboriginal Lay Church Leaders to help strengthen Aboriginal Churches, communities and people through Theological Education on by Extension (TEE). They are currently surveying Churches to determine beliefs, attitudes and behaviours that currently exist in the Churches.

Dennis & Glennys Tranter

Dennis & Glennys Tranter serve with APWM and Global Recordings Network Australia. They are developing teaching material for Indigenous people in Australia. Serving with Global Recordings Network enables them to tap into existing I.T. networks. They are helping with the writing and recording of Biblical stories and teaching material. These will also be used by Christians in other countries.

Rick & Kayleen Manton

Rick & Kayleen Manton (APWM National) pastored the Mount Druitt Indigenous Church for 20 years. Rick has now concluded that ministry and is now in the process of developing a training and mentoring ministry to the Indigenous Christian community at large.

Surendra & May Wesley

Surendra & May Wesley serve with APWM and Presbyterian Inland Mission (PIM). Surendra cares for the Mount Magnet Presbyterian Church where 10-14 local people (including many Indigenous people) attend the weekly worship service. Twice a week he goes on PIM Patrol, visiting outback stations and building relationships with the station owners. He also serves as the chaplain at the District High School, and is getting to know many Indigenous families in the area. A women's fellowship has commenced under May's leadership.
